

'Eyes of the Fleet' Get Tough Test

Grueling rough-water test is passed with flying colors by this crack new Curtiss-Wright Seagull. Of amphibian design, these planes are rolling off assembly lines in Columbus, O., for service as eyes of U. S. fleet.

Columbus, O., Sept. 4—(AP)—The new Seagull, a scout-observation plane now rolling off the assembly line of the Curtiss-Wright Corp. here, has gone into active service with the U. S. fleet, the corporation announced today.

Called the "Eyes of the Fleet", the ship can operate either from land on wheel gear or by catapult operation from battleships and cruisers, using floats for landing.

It is faster than the Navy's other ship-based planes, and with its long cruising range and ability to carry light bombs, will aid in the hunt for submarines.

Cabinet Changes in Spain Regarded as Slight Allied Gain

Pro-Nazi Ministers Replaced by Men Held To Be Conservative

By The Associated Press

The ouster of ardent pro-Nazi Ramon Serrano Suner from the Spanish foreign ministry by his brother-in-law, Generalissimo Franco, was accepted in the United Nations today as a slight lifting of the clouds in that corner of the Mediterranean.

On the other hand, axis sources showed restraint, and suggested that General Franco is being asked to explain.

A broadcast by the German news agency, Transocean, said no statement concerning the changes was being made by the German foreign office today and that no effort would be made to "anticipate an eventual declaration on the subject by General Franco."

It said, however, that personal sketches of the new members of the cabinet were distributed "showing the sympathetic attitude adopted here towards the latter."

These sketches recalled that Count Francisco Gomez Jordana, the new foreign minister, was in that post when Spain adhered to the anti-comintern pact, and that Manuel Mora Figueroa, new vice-president of the Falangist party, served for some time in the Spanish blue division with German troops on the eastern front.

Bern dispatches said German newspapers generally betrayed surprise at the shift, particularly because Serrano Suner had just recently returned from important conversations in Rome and Vatican City.

Not Allied Victory

A British foreign office commentator cautioned that the shakeup should not be scored as a clear victory for allied diplomacy but said it undoubtedly weakened the axis slightly.

Spain's position between British guns at Gibraltar and German guns in occupied France, President Roosevelt's proposal of post-war assistance in her reconstruction and traditional bonds linking Madrid with Latin American governments now largely arrayed against the axis were variously cited.

A wait-and-see attitude, however, was adopted by prominent Spanish Republicans who fled to Mexico City.

Former Premier Indalecio Prieto said "it would not be going too far" to suspect the shakeup announced in Madrid yesterday was a maneuver to give Generalissimo Franco time to mull his future policy around the outcome of the new axis offensive in Egypt.

Francisco, the brother-in-law of Serrano Suner, himself took over as council chief of the Falange, the only authorized political movement within Spain since the close of her civil war.

Conservative Minister

The foreign ministry went to Count Francisco Gomez Jordana, veteran soldier-statesman, a conservative nationalist who also held the post when the United States recognized Franco's government April 1, 1939.

Alexander W. Wedell, former U. S. Ambassador to Spain, said at Richmond that the shift of foreign ministers "might be fairly translated as an indication that relations with the United States" would be examined with more moderation.

The London News Chronicle said it would "be rash to expect any drastic change of foreign policy," but described the dismissal

Nazis in Suburbs of Stalingrad

Fighting 'Without Precedent' Raging on Front Near City

Rommel's African Army Forced to Fall Back by Allied Raiders

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's armored columns, jolted by terrific allied fire-power, were reported to have fallen back in the battle of Egypt today under another record-breaking assault by British and American warplanes.

A British communiqué said the main axis forces had retreated slightly westward.

On the Russian front, Nazi headquarters asserted that German troops had fought their way to the western suburbs of Stalingrad, and Tass, the official Soviet news agency, acknowledged that fighting was in progress on "the immediate approaches" to the big Volga steel city.

Dispatches to Red Star said battles without precedent in violence were raging on the northern and southern approaches to the city as Gen. Fedor von Bock threw 25 divisions or upwards of 375,000 troops into a climactic assault on the key "City of Stalin."

"The Hitlerites' tank columns, decimated in previous engagements, have been considerably replenished," Tass said.

German planes were reported attacking the city regularly in waves of 150 or more.

Battle in Caucasus

In the Caucasus, Hitler's field headquarters said, German troops crossed the Kerch Strait between mainland and now are attacking Russian defenses on the Black sea coast.

Against the steadily darkening plight of Russia's armies, the situation in Egypt was markedly improved.

A bulletin from British Imperial G. H. Q. said British forces exerted strong pressure on the enemy all day yesterday in the southern sector of the 35-mile El Alamein front, 80 miles west of Alexandria.

"The enemy's main concentration moved slightly westward during the day," a communiqué said.

"Allied light bombers broke their previous day's record of sorties against enemy concentrations. No enemy dive-bombers operated over the battle-area."

No Allied Bombers Lost

No allied bombers were lost, the British command said.

The communiqué indicated that U. S. army and RAF fliers, coupled with allied ground forces, had won at least the first phase of the new five-day struggle by compelling Rommel to draw in his steel-tipped horns.

Italy's high command gave a conflicting version of the battle, asserting that "encounters by armored elements have results to our advantage" and making no

Angler Reports Hair Found on Hook: Drag River for Woman's Body

Members of the police and fire department formed a dragging crew which this morning dragged Rock river at the foot of North Dement avenue in an attempt to locate a woman's body after Donald Place had reported having found a wad of what appeared to be woman's hair on the hook of his line while fishing at 6 o'clock last evening, near the boat houses there.

He reported his find to Patrolman J. F. McIntire this morning and shortly after, Fire Chief Sam Cramer, and Officers McIntire and Ray Wilson dragged the river for some time but failed to locate a body. The police took the wad of hair to the station and upon inspection it appeared to be that of at least a middle aged woman, the hair being streaked with grey.

The police had no report of a drowning in this vicinity.

Startled

Seattle, Sept. 4—(AP)—A benign gentleman warned by his penny into the scales outside a West Seattle store.

And seemed startled to observe a snake weaving back and forth inside the glass.

A. P. Layman, store manager, said the customer shuddered slightly as he departed after emptying his flask into the scale.

A humane society agent finally removed the snake, Layman said. It had been there several days, amazing no end of patrons.

Will Ask War Department If 18-19-Year-Olds Are Needed for U. S. Army

Washington, Sept. 4—(AP)—Chairman Reynolds (D-NC) of the senate military affairs committee declared today he would ask the war department for a formal recommendation "as to the necessity" of drafting youths of 18 and 19 into the armed forces.

Reynolds told reporters "he would be guided" by the decisions of our military leaders "in his consideration of a proposal, introduced yesterday by Senator Gurney (R-SD) to lower the minimum induction age from 20 to 18 and thus tap a reservoir of up to 2,000,000 men."

Gurney's proposal, offered as an amendment to the selective service act, was referred to the military committee. Reynolds said he would send it to the war department immediately for "its study and recommendation."

Gurney told the senate that the United States should go into the younger brackets for soldiers with a view of giving them sufficient training and adequate physical upbuilding to equip them to meet the enemy, particularly Germany, whose youth "Hitler trains almost from the time they are babes in arms."

Reynolds said he would agree to hold hearings on Gurney's proposal, but preferred that they be conducted by the full committee, rather than a subcommittee, "in view of the vast importance of this issue." He added it would be a couple of weeks before a full attendance could be assured.

Doctor's Vacation Facing Abrupt End

St. Louis, Sept. 4—(AP)—Tire rationing officials in Salt Lake City have been notified to intercept a St. Louis physician, who is making a pleasure trip, and confiscate four new rationed tires on his automobile.

Disclosure of the action was made today by Matt Morse, member of the St. Louis rationing board, who said the doctor was given a permit last week for the tires, which were to be used solely in driving to attend his patients.

The name of the physician was withheld by the board.

Third of Crew of Marauder Lost in Jungles Is Saved

At an Allied Base in Australia, Sept. 4—(AP)—Lieut. Duncan Seffern of Manawa, Wis., pilot of a Marauder bomber which ran out of gasoline on a flight from Townsville, Australia, to Port Moresby, New Guinea, has reached this base after tramping through New Guinea jungles for 20 days.

His arrival left only two men missing of the five who were with him, one his navigator and the other Vern Haugland, Associated Press war correspondent who went to Australia from Los Angeles.

Seffern said today that Haugland was last seen as he listened to instructions on the use of his parachute and then jumped into space 13,000 feet above New Guinea.

That was Aug. 7. The first crewman to reach Port Moresby struggled in on Aug. 17 and relief parties sent out then found two others.

Seffern said today he had hopes both Haugland and the plane's navigator would get out of the jungle successfully, pointing out they might have caught fever or been injured on landing and thus were delayed.

Moreover, he said, natives in some parts of the island are scarce and it might take time to contact

Victory Hangs on More Scrap Steel

Washington, Sept. 4—(AP)—Representatives of the nation's newspaper publishers accepted the assignment today to undertake a gigantic scrap salvage campaign, spurred by a statement from WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson that "we're not doing a very good job of winning this war."

Nelson's appeal for the campaign, voiced at a meeting of 200 publishers and editors, was backed by the declaration of R. W. Wolcott, president of Lukens Steel Company, that "there are only two weeks' supply of steel scrap in the country in the hands of steel mills."

"Unless a miracle happens, two furnaces are going down over the week-end in Chicago," he told the group. "San Francisco is in bad shape, Pittsburgh and Youngstown are in horrible shape."

Lieut. Gen. Brehon Somervell, chief of the army services of supply, reported that arms production schedules for September and October were so great as to exceed the capacity to provide materials, and that schedules in the months following would be much heavier.

"We haven't won this war yet and we'll be a long time winning it," Somervell said. "This time it's not a question of 'how long,' but 'if.'"

The job of the newspapers, said Vice Admiral S. M. Robinson, chief of the navy's bureau of procurement and materiel, is to "shock the people into a realization of our true state of affairs," and to prove that the salvage campaign "is no boondoggling gesture to build synthetic morale."

"If the people are not convinced, your headlines may tell them how we finally arrived, only to find that we had come with too little and too late," Robinson concluded.

Members of the outworn Irish Republican Army were blamed for the Randalstown blast, which injured two police officers and apparently was in protest against the hanging of Thomas Williams, youthful IRA follower, last Tuesday for the slaying of a constable.

United States troops, for whom Belfast had been declared out of bounds Wednesday and Thursday, appeared on the streets here last night without incident.

19 CZECHS EXECUTED

London, Sept. 4—(AP)—The execution of 19 Czechs at Prague, two of them women, was reported today by Czech government circles in London.

High treason was the charge against each, including Mrs. Irene Bernaskova, 38, a journalist. All were said to have been described in a German announcement as high in a secret organization working against the reich.

Morgenthau's Plan to Tax Spending is Called "Ridiculous"

Majority of Committee of Senators Opposed To His Proposal

Washington, Sept. 4—(AP)—Congressional tax experts told the senate finance committee today that a 5 per cent retail sales tax would be feasible and would produce approximately $2,500,000,000 annual revenue.

Colin F. Stam, head of the congressional staff, said he had asked additional time to report to the committee on the effect of a treasury proposal to levy taxes on individual expenditures as part of a new program to obtain $6,500,000,000 more revenue than was provided in the $6,271,000,000 house bill.

The proposal of the treasury would result in collection of about $30,500,000,000 yearly, with about $4,500,000,000 set aside for post-war rebates to individuals.

Immediately after the treasury program was presented yesterday more than a majority of the committee members expressed opposition to it.

Stam said he agreed generally with Randolph Paul, treasury general counsel, that if a sales tax were to be levied, it ought to be at a flat rate. While the treasury official suggested a levy on services as well, the congressional staff opposed this.

Chairman George (D-Ga.) told reporters the committee planned to decide whether it would write into the new revenue bill a spending tax as asked by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, a sales levy or some other form of source collection of taxes before it acted finally on individual income rates.

Collection by Stamps

Senator Danaher (R-Conn.) explained to the committee his plan for collection of a sales levy by stamps.

Under the Danaher plan, each purchaser of an article would be required to buy stamps of 11 per cent of the sale price. These stamps in turn could be used as payment on the individual's income tax, or could be held until after the war when the government would rebate the amount they represented.

To lighten the effect on low income persons, Danaher suggested that when the first $25 worth of stamps had been obtained on $250 in purchases, the holder would be permitted to purchase an additional $250 in goods without paying any tax.

Aside from the discussions of the sales and spendings tax proposals, the committee reached two decisions today concerning taxation of ordinary life insurance companies (not mutuals).

It rejected an amendment which would have exempted such concerns from the excess profits tax. Chairman George said he understood that few if any such companies were subject to the levy, but that the committee did not want to establish a precedent of allowing general exemptions.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.) said he believed Morgenthau had left no course open to the committee but to boost substantially the $6,271,000,000 yield in additional taxes provided by the house-approved revenue bill.

Proposal "Ridiculous"

"From what the secretary says," Byrd told reporters, "there must be additional money raised beyond that provided in the house bill. As I see it, the sales tax is the only answer. Certainly, we can't impose such a ridiculously-involved spending tax as he has suggested. It would be easily possible for a man to pay more tax than his income under such a levy."

The Morgenthau plan would call for a 10 per cent levy on all the unexpended spendings of single persons who earned more than $500 a year and of married persons with incomes of more than $1,000. The latter would be given additional exemptions of $250 for

Holiday

Business in Dixon generally will be suspended over the coming double week end holiday. None of the business houses or banks will be open Monday. Labor Day and no observation of the day will be conducted locally. The 89th Ogle county fair at Oregon will be the nearest attractions for pleasure seekers and a fine program has been arranged for both afternoon and evening. Many will go to New Glarus, Wis., where Monday afternoon Schiller's opera, William Tell, will be presented by citizens of that vicinity in the open air.

The city hall, court house and public library will remain closed Monday. At the postoffice, all departments will be closed, the only activity being the collection and dispatch of mails. There will be no delivery of mail either city or rural routes. There will be no edition of The Telegraph.

Suggestions About Presents to Sailors Given by U. S. Navy

Washington, Sept. 4—(AP)—Christmas parcels for sailors and marines should be mailed early and kept small, the navy said today.

Supplying a set of "Doss" and "dents" the navy said gifts should be mailed between Oct. 1 and Nov. 1 and labelled "Christmas Parcel" to get special attention.

Articles should be easily portable, and useful in any climate, such as toilet kits, watches, notebooks, pipes, pens and photographs. Electrical apparatus "is of doubtful value" and food should be avoided particularly, because it is apt to arrive in bad condition.

Other instructions: No clothing unless it was specifically requested. No mailing of intoxicants, inflammable materials, or poisons—prohibited by postal regulations. Because of shipping space shortages, size of Christmas packages should not be larger than an ordinary shoebox, or weigh over six pounds.

Because most of the packages must travel a long distance and stand considerable handling, they should be packed substantially and covered by strong wrappers. To facilitate censoring, they should not be sealed.

Parcels for men overseas should show the name and address of the sender, and the name, rank or rating of the addressee, and if in the navy, the unit or ship to which he is assigned. The location of the unit or ship, even if known by the sender, should never be included, and only two postoffice addresses should be used on overseas packages—Care, Postmaster, New York, or Care, Postmaster, San Francisco.

If money is sent, money orders should always be used, since at many foreign posts, there are local prohibitions against importation of United States money.

Bomb Blast, Gun Fight Stir Ulster

Belfast, Northern Ireland, Sept. 4—(AP)—The explosion of a time bomb outside a police barracks at Randalstown, northern Ireland, and a sharp gun battle between police and Irish Republican guerrillas at the northern Ireland-Erie border heightened tension today in this Ulster Capital.

No casualties were reported from the gun battle and the attackers escaped. Authorities expressed belief that the guerrillas fled back into Erie after firing on police barracks at Bellech, County Fermanagh. Telephone lines in the vicinity had been cut prior to the attack.

During the night police pressed their roundup of suspected political agitators which by morning had resulted in 90 arrests.

Members of the outworn Irish Republican Army were blamed for the Randalstown blast, which injured two police officers and apparently was in protest against the hanging of Thomas Williams, youthful IRA follower, last Tuesday for the slaying of a constable.

United States troops, for whom Belfast had been declared out of bounds Wednesday and Thursday, appeared on the streets here last night without incident.

Meat Industry To Be Licensed Under New OPA Regulation

Action Will Be Taken as Guard Against Price Evasions

Washington, Sept. 4—(AP)—In a move designed "to prevent the evasion of existing and forthcoming price regulations," the Office of Price Administration shortly will place the entire meat industry, except for retailers, under unified licensing control.

Announcement of the licensing program last night followed the beginning of court action against approximately 115 meat packers and wholesalers to compel compliance with price regulations.

Alleging "up-grading" or "plain and simple overcharging," OPA began filing injunction suits in 18 cities throughout the country, and said additional actions would be filed in other cities as the investigation continued.

Effective Sept. 8, OPA will automatically license all packers, wholesalers and custom slaughterers, and make the license a required condition for selling any meat product subject to price regulation. Dressed hogs, beef, veal and lamb carcasses, and almost all

16 Pct. of Women Needed in Labor

Washington, Sept. 4—(AP)—Manpower Chairman Paul V. McNutt said today that one of every six women over 18 years old not in the labor force would be needed in the war effort, and he established a 12-member women's policy committee in the War Manpower Commission.

"One out of every four housewives, perhaps one out of every three, between the ages of 18 and 44 will be employed," he said.

Miss Margaret A. Hickey, owner and director of a school for secretaries at St. Louis, was named chairman of the women's policy committee, which will aid in mobilizing the women workers.

McNutt explained the committee would consider questions of important policy concerning the manpower commission's program for training as well as recruiting women workers, and would work closely with the commission's management-labor policy committee.

Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, said recently that able-bodied men in industries would be drafted, and that they must be replaced by women and older men.

Charges Attorney General Failed Utterly to Follow Congress' Wish

Washington, Sept. 4—(AP)—The FBI and the Dies committee were at sharp odds today over the extent of subversiveness among federal employees.

Chairman Dies (D-Tex), accusing Attorney General Francis Biddle of having "failed utterly" to comply with congressional wishes, asked the house to reject a justice department report which criticized the committee indirectly for sending the FBI on a time-consuming search for disloyal government workers.

Dies, head of the special committee set up four years ago to investigate subversive activities, made his request in a letter to Speaker Sam Rayburn in which he referred to a recent act of congress asking the FBI to make the check

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

War Effort Emphasizes Need to Cope With Age-Old Problem of Intoxication

Text: In Ancient Sodom—Genesis 13:13; 19:23-25; Deuteronomy 32:13-33. In Ancient Israel—Amos 6:1-7.

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

The title of this lesson, "The Alcohol Problem: Past and Present," reminds us that the problem is as old as the history of man. The Bible itself takes the story of drunkenness back to the time of the flood, and if Noah celebrated his emergence from the Ark by getting drunk, instead of by soberly devoting himself to the task of building a new world, he was probably repeating an experience of man from even earlier times.

It is at once both impressive and discouraging to realize how old is the problem of alcoholic intoxication—discouraging because one wonders whether, and when, the problem that has lasted so long and baffled successive generations will ever be solved, and impressive because the persistence of the evil, and all that the Bible and history bear witness to concerning it, make solution all the more necessary.

The urgency of the problem is emphasized today when the country is at war. Everything is being challenged on the basis of whether it helps or hinders the war effort, and alcohol cannot be an exception. It is an important factor as a war commodity, but what about it as a beverage? Already there is considerable agitation for revival of the eighteenth amendment as a wartime measure, but many who by personal abstinence and conviction are opposed to the liquor traffic question the wisdom of that on practical grounds.

Religious instruction for the children of grades 4, 5 and 6 of the Dixon public schools will be ready to start next week, it was announced at a meeting of the executive committee of the Dixon Council of Christian Education this week. Miss Hoelzen, who has been hired as teacher of the classes, has arrived from Newark, N. J., where she has been engaged in similar work for the past few years. Textbooks have been purchased and will be provided to all the children desiring to take the course. A large number of the children in the grades indicated have returned permit cards from their parents authorizing them to take these courses. No child will be permitted to take the course unless he has a permit signed by parents or guardian. This is required by the state law. Cards may be secured from the instructor. Evacuated Japanese to Finish Studies

Washington, Sept. 4.—(AP)—American-born Japanese students evacuated from the west coast when the war began are getting a chance to continue their studies.

Officials of the war relocation board said today that scores of colleges and universities in the midwest and east had agreed to accept some of the 1,900 evacuees.

The students, who will be sent to institutions selected by the war and navy departments, represent a small portion of the 10,000 Japanese removed from the west coast after Japan attacked Pearl Harbor.

Only American-born students who were attending or were about to enroll in colleges when war came are eligible. Even these will be subject to modified surveillance by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, officials said.

The program is being handled in cooperation with the students' relocation council, a non-government agency.

Reports Show Dixon U. E. Church Ranks High in Conference

Bethel U. E. church on the north side will begin its third year with the present pastor, the Rev. R. S. Wilson, being returned to them as pastor for the coming year, at the annual session of the Western conference which met last week in Canton, Ohio. Reports indicate that Bethel church ranked well among the churches of the conference, both in numbers and finances. The conference as a whole reported a net loss in membership and attendance due to war migration, but the finances in every department showed an increase.

Two additions to the ministry of the church were reported, and four ministers were advanced in ordination. All of the pastors were reappointed to their present fields. This is unusual and had not happened for the past ten years. The Rev. Paul D. Gordon, a former pastor of Bethel church, was reappointed to the Canton congregation which entertained the meeting. The Rev. Richard Taubenheim, who entered the ministry from Dixon returns to the same congregation in Mansfield, Ohio. The Rev. Allen G. Bodey, a former Bethel pastor, was one of the speakers at the conference. He is now pastor of a large congregation in Allentown, Pa., which is in the East Pennsylvania conference.

He was a pastor in Dixon while a student at Wheaton college in 1924 and 1925.
William Foster, lay delegate from Bethel congregation served on the statistical committee. The local pastor served as chairman of the committee on spiritual state of the church, and also on the special committee concerning war and peace, as well as the board of examiners and conference reporter. Pastor Wilson was elected as alternate delegate to the General conference of the denomination which will meet in Allentown, Pa., October 1-5. He will be expected to attend this quadrennial meeting and be ready to sit as a regular member in case any of the regular delegates becomes sick or has to be absent from a session.

Your carrier boy is your business man of tomorrow—encourage him in his work. If you can help him secure another new customer—by all means do it. He will be most grateful.

A Thought for Today
For many are called, but few are chosen.—Matthew 22:14.

The strongest principle of growth lies in human choice.—George Eliot.

To Promote Understanding
Nazi propagandists have utilized temperamental differences between English and Americans to sow seeds of distrust, which sometimes fall on both sides of the Atlantic.

Now, for the second time in a generation,
Americans and British are fighting side by side
against an aggressor Germany, to preserve for democracy the right to exist in this world.

When World War I ended, the nationalistic
jealousies of the allies resulted in our losing the
"peace," and set forces in movement which made World War II inevitable.

The English and the Americans must come to an understanding between now and the writing of the next peace treaty, if 1919 history is not to be repeated—if, this time, democracy is to have a real chance, so that we shall not have to fight another ideological war within 20 or 25 years.

It is not necessary or desirable that Americans become Anglophiles. All we need do is educate such
of our Anglophiles as we can, and ignore the rest.
Across the water, men of good will have a similar task to persuade their intolerant fellows that Americans are not the selfish, money-grabbing, half-savage
creatures we have been painted.

Maurice Dreicher has laid down his idea of a 10-
point program by which mutual understanding
could be promoted. His first point typifies the spirit of the program and, if observed, would put an end to the traditional mistrust between the two peoples.

"Remember," he suggests, "neither side is perfect. In past differences between Britain and America, there were usually three sides to the argument—the side of the United States, the side of Great Britain, and the right side.

"This is not a war to preserve the British Empire," says Dreicher, we think correctly, "but to preserve the free way of life of a group of independent countries."

England, Canada, Australia, New Zealand,
South Africa, the United States—none of these is fighting so much for the others as for its own right
to exist free of German domination and totalitarian ideology.

Each is as near a true democracy as man-kind
has been able to evolve in practice. Each recognizes that its right to democracy is linked indissolubly with the preservation of the others. Why, then, should any of us hate any other, when our likeness is so fundamental and our difference so superficial?

The England that we fought no longer exists.
Can we risk the world's future security on pho-
bias arising from purely temperamental differences?

WHEN A GIRL MARRIES

BY RENE RYERSON MART

BACK TO REALITY

CHAPTER XIII

AUNT FAYE had money! But Aunt Faye wasn't the kind of a person who went around assuming other people's responsibilities. It made Enid sick with humiliation to think of having to ask her for a loan. . . but there was nothing else to do.

Mrs. Luxon didn't make it easy for Enid either. "Haven't you any money at all?" she asked incredulously.

Enid flushed with her guilty secret. If her aunt knew that she had squandered her entire savings in a hair-brained escape from reality she would never help her.

"Pop only gets a small check from a benefit fund now that he isn't able to work any more," she explained lamely, "and I make $20 a week. That doesn't go very far. Please, Aunt Faye, I'll pay
it back. Every cent of it."

"How much will you need?"
"I—I don't know. Perhaps a couple of hundred dollars."

Grudgingly Faye Luxon wrote
her a check for that amount.

"Aunt—Aunt, Pop, if he lives,
must never know about this," Enid thought wretchedly. She felt that she had brought dishonor upon them by having to borrow money.
They had always been poor, Pop
had never made big wages, but they'd always been independent and proud. They'd never accepted
nor expected help from anyone.

She wished again futilely that she hadn't spent her savings so foolishly, that she had never rented
the apartment in Arlington.
And there her thoughts halted
curiously confused.

No, she decided after a moment,
she didn't really regret what she had done, not even now, while her face still burned with humiliation. For if she hadn't rented the apartment she'd never have met Hank Holliday, never have known that the kind of a man she had dreamed about really existed.

It was the first time she had thought of the doctor since she had gone home and found the telegram from Letty. And even in the midst of her troubles the thought of him magically warmed
her heart. It was with lighter steps that she went back to the hospital office and made the necessary arrangements for her father's care.

When she went back upstairs,
she found the family in consultation outside the private room where they had moved Pop. Letty was worrying about her babies
left in the casual care of neighbors at the resort. Enid told Phil
to take her back to the cottage.

and round up their scattered family.
Aunt Faye said she was dead
on her feet, and that she'd have to go home, too, and get some sleep.
Enid told them all to go. She said she'd stay at the hospital and if Pop took a turn for the worse
she'd let them know.
Tom lingered after the others
had gone. He waited until a passing nurse disappeared into a room
and then he slipped his arms
around Enid and kissed her quickly.
She pulled away from him.
"Don't, Tom, please not now."
He thought she was tired and embarrassed. He had no way of knowing that the alarm in her eyes and the flush that pinked
her cheeks was caused by a startling and quickly suppressed
memory of another man's kiss.
"Sorry, babe, I guess I shouldn't have done that, now. Listen, I hate to leave when the old man's so bad. But I ought to be at work in the morning. I'll come back up next Sunday. That all right?"
She nodded. "Yes, Tom. And if Pop—gets better, I'll go back with you then. I'll have to be at the office next week."
He went down the corridor
swinging his shoulders, and looked back before he made the turn and waved at her.
The blood rushed to her face
again. It was as if everything Tom did was designed to torture
her with a mixture of shame—
and longing. In just such a manner Hank Holliday had walked down another corridor and had turned at his door and waved gaily at her.
Her throat grew achingly dry
and hot. This was the last precious week of her vacation. The last week of her life, and she wouldn't be seeing Hank, or going places with him. A mist clouded her eyes.
She turned slowly and went into
her father's room.
She sat down in a chair in a corner of the room, out of the way, and watched the nurses move
softly on their rubber-soled shoes about her father's bed. Every little while a white-coated in-terne would come in and check
the charts and feel her father's pulse, and perhaps give some low-voiced instruction to the nurse in attendance. The room was dim and quiet, the only sound the labored monotony of her father's painful breathing.
Enid wished there was something she could do to help. It was terrible just to sit helplessly by
and watch.
She didn't realize that she had fallen asleep, until someone shook her rather roughly back to

Strikes Can Be Controlled

Assuming what seems to be unquestionable—
that nobody wants strikes, particularly in war industries—is there nothing that we can do about them? Must we go on seeing armament output handicapped, explaining apologetically that there could be more strikes than there are?

Hitler would answer yes—Hitler and Mussolini and Tojo. They say that democracy is all right while the going is smooth, but that in a pinch democrats are too soft to take the necessary self-discipline.

We say no. We believe that the American will
to win is limited only by the leadership we need to tell us how to win. We are convinced American labor is sufficiently patriotic to accept whatever restrictions government will impose, in the national interest.

Most strikes are not by or on behalf of the oppressed stratum of workers. They are by local unions largely on behalf of men and women who are earning the highest wages in history, who are quite content.

National union leadership is opposed to strikes,
under whatever euphonious names, in war industry.
But that opposition, up to now, has been come-
plaisant, spineless and utterly negative.

The big shot officials won't authorize strikes.
They ask—pretty please—if strikers won't be good boys and go back to work. They issue statements deploring the strikes, and go back to their tating.

The theory is that the national officers cannot do anything except plead. The fact is that they can. If nothing else, they can follow the lead of a few really zealous union patriots, and strike from
the membership rolls is the names of men who participate in outlaw strikes.

In all probability William Green, Philip Murray
and the officers of the international unions under them will not take such a bold course. Does that make Hitler's estimate of democracy correct?

Not at all. President Roosevelt has shown one way. When he had the Navy take over the General
Cable Company plant it was assumed that the management was to be the goat. Later information suggests that this time the workers, who had refused to accept the decision of a pro-labor board,
may pay for their temerity by not getting the adjustment the board had offered.

A few more blows like that could take the heart
out of war strikers.

Assistance from Mexico

Arrangements between the two governments
will make available a supply of Mexican workers to relieve a farm labor shortage which has been worrying our cotton and sugar beet farmers.

The safeguards thrown around the arrangement would seem to be ample. Mexicans will be brought in only when domestic workers cannot be obtained. They will stay only so long as the need lasts. They must be paid the prevailing wage scale,
so that they will not lower existing labor standards.

The net results, all desirable, will be help for our farmers, money for the Mexicans, and the saving
of cotton and sugar beets that American consumers need.

Shave and Haircut—One Buck

Master barbers and union officials in Brooklyn, N. Y., have agreed to raise the price of a shave and a haircut to an even dollar. Except to men in uniform. These still will be prettified for 70 cents—
approximately half of a day's pay for a private.

News Behind The News

Washington, Sept. 3—Substitution of Tojo for Togo makes about
as much change in the Jap military clique as the difference in spelling implies.

At first glance, the break in the cabinet may have seemed to signify a cheering lack of confidence with Togo's conduct of the war
so far. Unfortunately this is not justified.

The incoming Tojo formerly was war minister, and thus has been in charge of the operations of the army. He not only still holds that post, but combines it with the navy ministry, and the home ministry, as well as the premiership.
Thus he becomes another tin god
on the same shelf with Hitler and Mussolini.

Trying to find reason in the Japanese military mind was as futile a task as searching for substance in a cloud, even before the existing barriers or armament
and censorship were erected around Tokyo.

But the one thing clear and tangible here, in the erection of new tin god Tojo, is that his predecessor Togo is known to have given his personal word to the Reds
that Russia would not be attacked.

Also clear is the fact that the Japanese generally switch cabinets to cover change of political front which Hitler generally accomplishes by merely changing his mind, making friends of former enemies, and vice versa, as expediency requires.

The Japs go to the extent of changing the minister who has given his word.

That is why the column dated September 1, predicting a Jap attack on Russia, as a result of their Chinese withdrawals, now goes double.

It is not likely that Rommel's
new attack in Libya was devised merely as diversion shouting and waving of arms to keep us from shifting troops into Iran and thus bolstering the faltering Caucasus line of the Russians. Nor is it probable that this crafty Nazi general knew we were about to attack and threw his in first, to push us off balance.

True, we had been openly moving up troops and planes to the front (our Cairo radio commentators broadcast this) several days before the fighting started.
But we were reinforcing because
we expected Rommel to strike,
and we expected his use of his position was uncomfortable.

Our short Alamain line was ideal. Alexandria was only 100 miles away, with adequate transportation facilities by both rail
and road, enabling us to rest
troops and shift them about with the greatest of ease.

Rommel, however, could not rest any troops without sending them back 200 miles. All his water had to come up to the front
that distance. His transportation
early accounts of the fighting (as
he was squirming in an unfavorable position and had to act.

Our elastic line had an explosive front porch of mine fields
eight miles deep. The fragmentary
early accounts of the fighting (as
this was written) told of a German victory in penetrating our lines by eight miles, which really only meant that they got through the mine fields and up to the line
of fighting.

The weakness of the Russians
in the vital Caucasus became apparent in the early fighting for that excellent natural line of defense.

Timoshenko and his army are not there, although I erroneously placed them there in a recent column. The Russian general is leading the Stalingrad defense (overdrawn by the psychically
to the Russians than the Caucasus front).

About all the Russians seem to have in the Caucasus are remnants of an army which escaped from Rostov. They have points along the Black sea, and their especially trained mountain
forces, trying to hold the passes toward east (and not doing very well at the accounts).

The Baiku oil fields will be strenuously defended no doubt,
but probably not on the long east-
west line of the top of the Caucasus, as previously expected.
The Russians just did not have enough troops.

Most of the conversational rumors about Alaska that have swept the country were found to be overdrawn by the congressional investigators who are now working their way back to Washington from that advance post.

The probes found false the report of Delegate Diamond of Alaska that the Japs had seized
the Pribiloff islands, famous home of seals. They also found Rep. Warren Magnuson's yarn
about the Jap aircraft carrier sinking away because of lack of coordination between Army and Navy during the Dutch Harbor raid, only represented what was commonly believed in Alaska.

Certainly the part of it which held that the Army commander
had been removed was untrue.
He is still on the job.

Lack of complete coordination,
however, was found to exist. At least Army and Navy officials on the ground seemed not fully satisfied with existing arrangements
by which the navy has unified control of the Aleutians and the Army control of Alaska proper.

A unified command of Army,
Navy and Air Forces will no doubt be advocated and promoted
in congressional debate by the returning investigators.

XAVIER F. GEHANT

(Contributed)
Xavier F. Gehant, son of Mo-deste Salastine and Olymphy
Frances Gehant, was born in Bradford township, Lee county, on January 29th, 1863, the eldest of fourteen children. While still a lad
his parents purchased and moved to the Hosea Town farm on the old Chicago road in Brooklyn township, Lee county where he lived and grew to manhood. He acquired a limited school education
in the country schools with a term at the academy at Lee Center during the winter. However,
from his school days and up to the time of his death he had been a student of books and literature
dealing principally upon subjects
of research, social development,
history and economics.

He was married to Lena May (Gallistath) Gehant, a daughter of Francis and Mary Ann Gallistath,
and to them were born six children—Grover W., of Dixon, Mary
O. (who died in infancy), George
M. of Clarkfield, Minnesota, Rosalie F. Owen of Niles, Michigan, Evelyn E. Lloyd of Girard, Ill., and Edmund W., of Dixon. His wife pre-deceased him on September 22, 1935.

Mr. Gehant, having been reared on a farm, took up the tilling of the soil as his chief occupation.
He purchased a farm in Viola
township where he and his family lived for many years, during which time in addition to farming he was also engaged in the raising of livestock and in dairying. He served as school director of the Van Campen school district
for nine years, town tax collector
for two years and town clerk for seven years. Mainly through his efforts the present town hall in Viola township was built. He also served as drainage commissioner of the Inlet Swamp drainage district for a number of years, and while serving as such considerable improvements were made in the district, including the excavation
and removal of the rock barrier between Inlet and Binghamton in order to afford a more complete drainage outlet for the district. In 1903 Mr. Gehant moved to Dixon where he resided up to the time of his death.

For the past twenty years he had devoted much of his time in developing his six acre tract,
where he lived at the time of his death, just east of Dixon. Here
he was interested in the raising of fruits, vegetables and flowers. It was here where he enjoyed and found much satisfaction in his work, his friends and his books.
He was imbued with a keen memory and knowledge of almost innumerable acquaintances and a number of events concerning their associations with the history of Lee county.

He passed away on Sunday morning, August 30, 1942 and was laid to rest on the following Wednesday in Oakwood cemetery
in Dixon with Dr. Floyd E. Blew-field of the Methodist church conducting the service. The history of the life and experience of the deceased may be well described in the words of the poet Edgar A.
Guest—as given by Dr. Blewfield
at the service.

"To live as gently as I can;
To be, no matter where, a man;
To take what comes of good or ill
And cling to faith and honor still;
To do my best, and let that stand
The record of my brain and hand;
And then, should failure come to me,
Still work and hope for victory.

I have no secret place wherein
I stop unseen to shame or sin;
To be the same when I'm alone
As when my every deed is known;
To live undaunted unafraid
Of any step that I have made;
To be without pretense or sham
Exactly what men think I am.

To leave some simple mark behind
To keep my having lived in mind;
If empty to aught I show
To be an honest, generous foe;
To play my little part, not mine
That greater honors are not mine.
This, I believe, is all I need
For my philosophy and creed."

Theasket bearers were: L. W.
Miller, Lee Lambert, Chorus Burgess, Sterling D. Schrock, Fred
A. Richardson and George J.
Fruin.

Barbara Wakeley Becomes Captain at Lake Geneva

Announcement has been made that Miss Barbara Wakeley, who made her Chicago debut in June with Miss Joan Ralston of "Reynoldswood" and Chicago at the Saddle and Cycle club, has been elected the fleet captain of the Lake Geneva Yacht club—the first time a feminine sailor ever has served in that capacity. Miss Wakeley is an accomplished sailor and one of the most popular young women around the lake, and the choice is considered a perfect one, in the absence of so many of the young men sailors.

Because of her new duties, Miss Wakeley will remain in Lake Geneva next week end, as the awarding of prizes will take place then, and so she will miss the gayest week end of the season in Chicago. No less than four debut parties will be given on the 12th in the city and suburbs, to all of which she has sent regrets.

However, Miss Angeline Johnson is giving a dinner-dance at the Lake Geneva Country club that Saturday night for the debutante, so there will be no lack of gaiety at that resort.

The bridegroom, who leaves a week from today for induction with the armed forces, is employed at the Clutterham sheet metal company.

Wilma Reynolds, Lieut. Pierce, Are Wed at Polo

Pink and white gladioli, against a background of greenery and candlelight, decorated the Evangelical church in Polo Tuesday afternoon for the wedding of Miss Wilma Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reynolds, and Lieut. Wayne Pierce, son of the Lemuel Pierces, also of Polo. The double ring ceremony was solemnized at 2:30 o'clock by the Rev. Willis Plapp.

Mrs. Willis Plapp was at the piano for a prelude of nuptial music, preceding the ceremony. Her selections included "Through the Years," "Indian Love Call," and "The Bells of St. Mary's." Dean Johnson sang two solos, "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly," with Mrs. Plapp playing his accompaniments. Strains of the Lohengrin wedding march were the signal for the entrance of the bridal party.

Miss Norma June Reynolds was maid of honor for her sister, and was dressed in yellow. The bridesmaids, the Misses Betty Maxey and Donna Mae Reynolds, wore blue and pink, respectively, with matching shoulder-length veils. They carried bouquets of gladioli, asters, and rosebuds to match their dresses.

The little flower girls, Joyce Pieper of Mt. Morris, whose frock was pink, and Patty Hoak, wearing blue, carried small bouquets of gladioli and rosebuds.

The bride walked with her father, who gave her in marriage. Her gown of white sheer was designed with leg o' mutton sleeves, a lace yoke, and a full skirt that extended into a long train. A tiara of seed pearls and orange blossoms held her fingertip veil of net in place, and she carried white gladioli with baby's breath.

Dwight Pierce was best man for his brother. Ushers were Warren Blum and Richard O'Dair. Mrs. Reynolds chose a dress of blue sheer with white trim, and blue accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her flowers were yellow gladioli. Mrs. Pierce was attired in old rose lace and crepe with white accessories. Her shoulder bouquet contained lavender asters and gladioli.

One hundred guests were received at an informal reception at the Reynolds home, following the wedding. The centerpiece on the lace-covered refreshment table was an all-white wedding cake, topped with a tiny bride and soldier bridegroom. Miss Aletta Hartman of Chadwick, Mrs. Paul Brown, Miss Verjean Begeman and Miss Dorothy Dennis served. The bride, whose great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Warner, were pioneer settlers of the Polo community, was graduated from Polo Community high school with the class of 1940. She has been employed in the Polo office of the Northwestern Telephone exchange.

Lieutenant Pierce was graduated from Polo Community high school in 1935, and entered the service in June, 1941. He was formerly stationed at Camp Roberts, Calif.; Fort Lewis, Washington, and Fort Ord, Calif. He received his commission as a second lieutenant Aug. 27, from the officers' training school at Fort Benning, Ga.

The bridal pair are now enroute to Macon, Ga., where Lieutenant Pierce will be stationed at Camp Wheeler.

Out of town guests were present for the wedding from Baileyville, Mt. Morris, Milledgeville, Forrester and Sterling.

The bride wore a navy sheer jacket dress with chartreuse embroidery and white accessories. Her shoulder corsage contained mixed flowers. Miss Dorothy Tabbert of Somers, Wis., as maid of honor, wore Alice blue print, with white accessories, and an all-white corsage.

The couple, who are now at home in Springfield, motored through Wisconsin on their wedding trip.

Mrs. Brown, a granddaughter of Mrs. Janet Garman of Polo, has been attending the University of Illinois, and is a senior in the home economics department, and is majoring in institutional management and dietetics.

—WE, THE WOMEN—

War-Lonely Girls Should Choose Dates Carefully

By RUTH MILLETT

It's no fun for a girl who's used to plenty of dates to find herself sitting at home, night after night, with no one to take her dancing since all her young men have left town to go into one of the services.

But a satisfactory solution isn't for her to start dating married men.

Yet that is what a lot of girls are doing today, according to what business girls have written and told me.

They say that girls who last year would have been insulted if a married man asked them for a date for already fed up on spending their evening with women that they jump at a chance to go out with a married man, just to get to go dancing or to have dinner in a nice restaurant.

That is a scatter-brained, irresponsible way of meeting their problem—and no real solution to it at all.

War's No Picnic for Anybody

Of course, it's no fun for a girl to go dateless week after week. But there are a lot of things about war that aren't any fun.

All that a girl can do honorably about the matter is devote the evenings she used to spend dancing to visiting with friends and doing war work. After all, the country's young men aren't having any picnic. And, she can, of course, spend some of the time she used to spend with young men writing to those same young men.

If she makes a habit of accepting dates with married men chances are pretty good that she'll fall in love with one of them—and then she will have a problem on her hands.

But even if she doesn't get emotionally tangled up with any husband, she is almost sure to get herself a less than shining reputation.

And she'll need a good one if she is to marry one of those boys she used to date when the war is over.

Red Sox Gain 23rd Triumph in 27 Games on Butland's 4-Hitter

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

When the Brooklyn Dodgers bought big Buck Newsum from the Washington Senators last Monday for a price now understood to have been $25,000, plus a minor league pitcher, they said they would be satisfied if the veteran won three games for them in the stretch drive for the National League pennant.

He shut out the Cincinnati Reds 2-0 on four scattered hits, no two in an inning, and struck out eight men in an almost airtight hurling duel with Johnny Vander Meer, who himself fanned eight and allowed only four safeties before being removed for a pinch hitter in the last of the eighth inning.

However, Vandy had one wild spot in his effort and it cost him an unearned run and eventual defeat.

The victory, closing Brooklyn's last western swing of the season, kept the Dodgers 41 games ahead of the St. Louis Cardinals, who crushed the New York Giants 7-0 behind the four-hit hurling of Lefty Howard Pollet.

The young southpaw hadn't won a game since June 7, but he exerted his old spell over the Giants, whom he had beaten three times in the spring, and the only club he has beaten all year except the Chicago Cubs.

Philadelphia's night game at Pittsburgh was postponed.

In the American league the speeding Boston Red Sox gained half a game on the idle New York Yankees by smothering the Detroit Tigers 2-0 on four-hit hurling by Bill Butland, who now has won six in a row. The red socks were held to five blows, but made them good for one run in the third and another in the sixth for their fifth straight triumph and 23rd in 27 games.

The Washington Senators turned the tables on the Chicago White Sox and swept a doubleheader 3-2 and 14-0, getting the stupendous sum of 20 hits off Thornton Lee and Ed Weiland in the second game, while Rookie Rae Scarborough was checking Chicago on five. In the first encounter Sid Hudson pitched one-hit ball for seven stanzas, but yielded three together for both White Sox runs in the eighth.

1942 Badgers Face a Tough Grid Season

Two New Faces in Wisconsin's Ten Game Schedule

Madison, Wis. (Special)—Sept. 4—Some people call it "suicide"; others prefer "headache", but the one thing that Coach Harry Stuhldreher can promise his University of Wisconsin gridiron candidates this year is plenty of tough game competition.

The 1942 Badgers will not have to take a back seat to any team in the nation this fall when they take a look at the list of ten games at which their attendance is required. Not even the slightest resemblance of a "breather" makes its appearance. From Sept. 19, when the Cardinal machine opens up against Camp Grant, until Nov. 21, when they tangle with those perennial champions, Minnesota, the Stuhldreher-coached men can figure on ten extremely busy Saturday afternoons.

Two of the Badgers' ten opponents are being met for the first time. The Great Lakes Naval Training station had a great ball club during World War I, but the Badgers did not happen to have played them, so when the two teams meet on Soldiers' Field in Chicago on Oct. 17, it will mark game number one in history.

Missouri, the other newcomer on Wisconsin's schedule, has picked a great year for their initial invasion of Camp Randall. They only cleaned up the Big Six last year and went to the Sugar Bowl. Rumor has it that they still have most of the big guns of their attack back for action this fall.

Notre Dame Second The Badgers' second opponent of the season will be Notre Dame, which comes back on the Wisconsin schedule after having been absent since 1936. Stuhldreher rode to football glory while playing for the Irish, but this is one time when his loyalty will leave his alma mater. Should the Badgers win, it would make the all-time record of the series stand even with five wins each and one tie.

The following Saturday, Oct. 3, Wisconsin and Marquette will battle for the gridiron supremacy of America's Dairyland. This contest bids fair to be one of the hardest fought of the entire season. Last fall, the Hilltoppers were victorious, so revenge will be the mood of the afternoon for the Badgers.

each individual should set you straight.

Carlson, a member of the Joseph L. Gill Insurance bowling team of Chicago, is former world's individual match game champ, and was picked on this year's All-American bowling team. During his career, he has rolled sixteen 300 scores, which ain't too bad. While picking up these perfect games, he has added to his list of championships nearly every bowling title outside the ABC crown. His highest average in league competition was 218 for 207 games, and he has averaged 201 in 16 years of ABC tournament play. His highest 3 game total in league competition is $14, while his top total for the same number of games in open play is $65.

Although Krumske's record is not as impressive as this, it is still something not to be passed over lightly. A member of the Schlitz Beer team of Chicago, he is the present individual match game champ of the Windy City. He was selected to this year's No. 3 All American bowling team. While rolling four perfect 300 games, he won nearly every major tournament in the country. His highest average in league competition is 222 for 96 games, his top 3 game total in league competition is $17. He has led the Chicago Classic league, considered the world's fastest, in individual average for the past 3 years, and he has an average of 199 for 9 years of ABC tournament play.

POLO MEN SLIPPING I don't want this to get around but do you suppose the Polo men are on the down grade? The reason I thought they might be is that the first hunting license of the season in Polo was issued to MISS Hazel Oyler! However, the men must have accepted the challenge after Miss Oyler received hers, because up to Tuesday, when the squirrel season opened in the northern zone, 29 licenses had been issued in Polo—mostly to males.

BERNER WITH WARRIORS Local fans who are perhaps wondering what happened to Jack Berner, football coach at Freeport, may cease their worries. It is Pvt. Berner now and instead of coaching the grid game, he's now playing it again. Berner, who starred at the University of Illinois, has been installed as guard in the Camp Grant Warriors' forward wall. Playing beside him this season will be another Freeportian, Sgt. Isaac Gage, center.

IMPRESSIVE RECORDS During an exhibition match, Jan. 7, for the benefit of the Red Cross, Carlson and Krumske rolled the highest 4 games doubles score ever reported to the ABC. Their score of 2009 averaged 251 pins per man per game. Slightly better than my $6 average, isn't it?

If this does not convince you that these men are pretty near the top of the heap, a few facts about

HARRY GRAYSON IS PERTURBED OVER SENATOR-YANKEE DEAL

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Staff Editor

New York, Sept. 4—Washington is in seventh place—33 games off the pace. So Clark Griffith is permitted to peddle the rather accomplished Roy Cullenbine to the Yankees for $10,000 or so. Evidently the remainder of the American League wanted to make certain that the plucky perennial champions. Or was it that they sought to make sure that the poor, old Yankees wouldn't enter the world series short-handed?

Anyway, George Selkirk is getting along, and it wouldn't have been nice to ask the Yankees to draw on one of their numerous farm clubs for a reserve outfielder. Not when they have $10,000 to spare for Washington or some other broken-down major league club.

Bums Have Worry It isn't the Yankee end of another nickel world series that is in danger, however, especially since Spud Chandler regained his form.

Joe McCarthy had sufficient pitching without dragging in the ancient and honorable Jim Turner and his soft stuff from Newark. After looking at the young fellows, Johnny Lindell and Red Branch, so long, McCarthy was glad to grasp an old bloke like Turner, who can at least get the ball over the plate. Turner can't be worse than Grandma Murphy, who lost eight straight as a relief worker.

There is, on the other hand, plenty of cause for apprehension in Brooklyn. And it isn't because the Cardinals are an outstanding club. A number of key Dodgers have been around for some time and there are unmistakable signs that they are tired.

Some trace this to the two weeks spent in Havana before other outfits were in monkey suits. Reiser Could Be Difference Dolph Camilli has been in a slump and Pee Wee Reese hasn't been too well, but what gives the Bums more concern than their dropping 11 out of 23 while the Red Birds were winning 20 out of 23 is the absence of Pete Reiser.

Reiser, the 21-year-old center fielder and National League batting champion, hasn't been the same since he crashed into the wall in St. Louis, and it was more than a pulled muscle in his groin that took him to the Baltimore hospital when his teammates needed him most.

The Brooks finish at home and should fatten up on the Phillies and Braves, but the western clubs come in, too, and then there always are the Giants.

The Brooks should take it again, but everybody associated with them would be happier with a sound Reiser in the thick of things, for—

Pete Reiser easily could be the difference between first and second place and all the money that goes with it.

HUNTING SEASON PROSPECTS GOOD—FOR WILD DUCKS

Greater Number of Birds Will Wing Over Lesser Number of Hunters

Chicago, Sept. 4—(AP)—In northern woodlands the wild ducks are breaking up housekeeping with the healthiest prospect in years of reaching Miami or wherever they're planning to spend the winter.

This fall a greater number of birds will wing over a lesser number of hunters equipped with enough ammunition but not enough time, tires or gasoline. The ducks can thank the war for this break.

The Izaak Walton league estimates well over 100,000,000 birds will lam it south the next few months. This would be 30,000,000 more than last season and three times as many as in 1935. Good weather and water conditions for breeding are responsible for the big flocks.

Though figures are unavailable, the league guesses that 500,000 hunters are using Uncle Sam's guns this season to blast at another kind of fowl. Of these probably 50,000 are duck hunters.

Then there are untold thousands who won't have time to leave their defense work benches to spend a few days in the marshes. Those who find time probably won't have tires or gasoline to take them to their favorite blinds.

The smarter ducks—the ones that hunters swear went to high school—will lay out a route along our coasts. There, wartime regulations prevent civilians from going out in any kind of boat with a firearm.

Last year 1,400,000 duck stamps were issued to hunters. The Izaak Walton league figures the 1942 total may not exceed 1,000,000.

RAIDERS TIED BY BEES IN PLAYOFF

(By The Associated Press) While Evansville and Cedar Rapids went into a tie in their three-out-of-five playoff series, Madison took a one-up advantage over Springfield last night in the first game of their similar series. The winners of the two series will meet in another three-out-of-five playoff crown.

Evansville defeated champion Cedar Rapids 3 to 1 on a nine-hit barrage that brought runs in the third, fifth and eighth innings. Pitcher Hazel set the Raiders down with only four hits. Cedar Rapids had won the opening series game earlier in the week and the Bees' victory squared the standing.

Madison posted two runs in the fifth inning when Jelincich clubbed a homer with a mate aboard to edge through Springfield 2 to 1. It was the first game of these two teams after weather caused postponements.

PLAYED WRONG HOLE

Milwaukee, Wis. — (AP) — Kenneth Schmid, of Milwaukee, knows why people go daffy over golf—he got his biggest thrill and suffered his deepest disappointment over the same shot.

Playing the short fifth hole at the Brown Deer course, Schmid sent his tee shot straight for the pin. When his foursome reached the green the ball was nowhere in sight.

"It's in the cup," shouted one of the players. They rushed to the cup—empty. A search beyond and around the green failed to locate the ball. Then one of the men called out that he had found it—in a temporary cup!

SCHROEDER FACES DEFEAT AT HANDS OF ALEJO RUSSELL

Top-Seeded Star Sprains Wrist in His Racket

By GALE TALBOT

New York, Sept. 4—(AP)—Not at his best because of a sprained tendon in his racket wrist, Ted Schroeder of Glendale, Calif., probably was in some slight danger of meeting defeat in his quarter-final match against Alejo Russell of the Argentine in the national tennis championships today.

Not serious danger; but, still, some. It could be very close. Ted, the top-seeded player in the tournament, has been too impressive up to this point.

In his last two matches Russell played a lot of brilliant tennis to defeat Bob Falkenberg, perhaps this country's most promising young star, and Sidney Wood, Jr., former Wimbledon champion.

Their match held most of the day's interest. Neither Lieut. Gardner Mulloy nor George Richards, paired in the other men's quarter-final, was considered very much of a threat to win the championship.

Frankie Parker still looked like the man to beat. He was a smooth machine, sailing under perfect control and with plenty of power to spare, as he ran down Seymour Greenberg, the national clay court champion yesterday, 6-0, 6-0, 6-4. He looked, in fact, like he might give Pancho Segura a methodical trimming in their semi-final match tomorrow. Pancho was anything but impressive in his win over Billy Talbert of Cincinnati by 6-4, 3-6, 6-2, 6-4.

Men's and women's doubles semi-finals also were scheduled today. In one men's match Segura and Russell met Mulloy and Talbert, and in the other bracket the Frankie Parker-George Richards combination faced the top seeded team of Schroeder and Wood.

RED COCHRANE IS ORDERED TO SEA AFTER ZIVIC BOUT

Summit, N. J., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Welterweight Champion Freddie (Red) Cochrane, on leave from the navy to fight Fritz Zivic in a non-title match in Madison Square Garden Sept. 10, revealed today he has been ordered to active duty by the Navy Sept. 12.

He disclosed the San Diego naval station, where he has been stationed several months, notified him to appear at the New York naval base a week from Saturday for transfer to sea duty. As a result, the bout with Zivic, from whom he won the 147 pound crown a year ago, probably will be his last for the duration.

DESPITE WAILING, GRID OUTLOOK IN BIG TEN IS ROSY

147 Lettermen Return at 9 Conference Schools

Chicago, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Cutting corners around the Big Ten football circuit.

Return of 147 grid lettermen in the conference this season makes a rosy picture despite the wailings heard about losses.

Twenty-two came back at Wisconsin, 20 at Minnesota, 18 at Ohio State, 17 at Northwestern and Purdue, 16 at Illinois, 14 at Indiana, 12 at Michigan and 11 at Iowa.

Minnesota should win the championship—its third in a row, its seventh since 1934. . . . The Gophers have enough material left over for a good team, but outstanding sophomores should make it a great team. . . . A favorable schedule gives them a running start—they play only one conference team, Illinois, in the first month.

Wisconsin should be the most improved team and this should be Harry Stuhldreher's "lucky seven" year. . . . The Badgers will be faster and more experienced with unusual reserve strength in the line, heretofore a weakness. . . . There are seven regulars back and 36 sophomores on hand, 11 of whom are rated grade-A.

Indiana will have trouble riveting together a line, for Bo McMillin lost eight lettermen and only one was a backfield performer. . . . The nearest thing he has to a veteran guard is a lad who played only 47 minutes last fall.

Purdue Hopes for Good Year This may be Purdue's best year since 1931. . . . Elmer Burnham, the new bossman, discarded the familiar Notre Dame attack for a short punt formation with variations and an offensive shift from three backs in a row.

What Northwestern lacks in power, it will make up in a diversified attack built around speed and passing by four junior backs, Otto Graham, Don Buffmire, Ed Hirsch and Bud Kean—only returning backfield lettermen.

Oddest note of the early season was struck by stories emanating from Michigan that Tom Kuzma, the 1941 sophomore wonder, will not be as great a halfback this season. . . . Fritz Crisler says he's worried about his star, but it may be just another of his bear stories.

At Notre Dame, Angelo Bertelli, who completed 70 of 122 passes for a total of 1,027 yards last year, should be a greater passing threat this time under Frank Leahy's T set up. . . . Bertelli will handle the ball every time it is snapped, leaving his foes guessing what he's going to do with it.

While looking around for All-America prospects in the midwest, observers say watch Center Wall Ziemba, Guard Bob Dove, and backs Dippy Evans and Bertelli, all of Notre Dame; Tackle Dick Wildung and Back Bill Dailey of Minnesota; Hillenbrand of Indiana; Graham of Northwestern; Back Pat Harder of Wisconsin; End Bob Shaw of Ohio State—and Kuzma of the Wolverines. . . .

BIG 10 OFFICIALS TO DISCUSS RULES

Chicago, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Big Ten football officials will meet Sunday with Maj. John Griffith, commissioner, and Fritz Crisler, athletic director and grid coach at the University of Michigan, to discuss the technique of officiating and to review and interpret rules. Crisler will represent the National Collegiate Athletic Association's rules committee.

"Production Uneven"
 Says Head of W. P. C.

Washington, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Some small arms ammunition plants have been directed to curtail operations, the War Production Board disclosed last night, because production of this type of munitions has been so abundant as to be out of balance with the over-all war program.

The requirements committee of WPB, representing the Army and Navy as well as civilian war agencies, has reduced the Army's requested allocation of copper for small arms ammunition, on the ground that the metal should be used for war goods more urgently needed at this time.

A total of 292 pupils have enrolled in the local grade school for the current school year. This represents one of the largest opening day enrollments in the history of the local school. The first grade with 48 pupils is the largest class in the school. The eighth grade with 42 leads the junior high school classes in enrollment. The enrollment by grades is as follows: First grade, 48; second, 30; third, 35; fourth, 38; fifth, 29; sixth, 34; seventh, 36; eighth, 42.

Four new teachers have been added to the grade school staff. Miss Ripley is a graduate of the Eastern Illinois State Teachers' college at Charleston, and has had four years' teaching experience in Illinois schools. She will be assisted in the first grade by Mrs. James Ward. Mrs. Ward is a graduate of the Illinois State Normal university at Normal.

Miss Mildred Dierdorff of Mt. Morris is teaching the second grade. Miss Dierdorff is beginning her first year of teaching after completing the elementary teachers' course at Manchester college, North Manchester, Ind.

Illinois GOP Says Women in Industry Merit Equal Wage

Director of Labor Says Question of Equality Presents Problem

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 4—(AP)—Equality of pay for women who do the same work as men in war industries has become one of the state's "most important economic and social problems," Director Francis B. Murphy of the state Department of Labor declared today.

With thousands of women taking war factory and industrial jobs to replace men, Murphy said there is danger of men being permanently "crowded out" of some occupations if employers are able to employ women at lower rates of pay.

The labor department has not officially estimated the extent to which Illinois industries are paying lower wages to women workers, but some union leaders have claimed only a small percentage of employers follow a policy of equality between the wages of men and women.

One estimate, Ray Edmundson, state president of the United Mine Workers of America and former state CIO director, was that less than ten per cent of the principal industries pay women as much as men for the same work.

GOP For Equality
Director Murphy recently raised the issue of pay equality at the time of the Republican state convention, and at his recommendation a plank favoring it was incorporated in the GOP state platform.

Unless employers adopt the equal pay for equal work rule, we can expect serious trouble, both now and in the future," he said in a statement.

"Men will suffer as well as the women who are being paid the lower wages. If an employer can get a woman to do a man's work for less money, there will be a tendency to crowd men out of certain occupations and industries."

"At the same time, paying women less than men are paid for the same work will result in a general lowering of wage and working standards."

"Many Illinois employers have admitted to me that women they are hiring to replace men who are going into the armed services are doing as much work as the man did. In simple justice, these women should be paid wages equal to those paid to the men."

Someone You Know Writes About the USO

August 24, 1942

My Dear Mayor Slothower:

May I offer my heartiest congratulations on your recent appointment as Chairman of your local USO program.

We, who are in the navy today, know what a grand job the USO is doing for our sailors. The USO centers here in Chicago, and in the other cities of the North Shore are headquarters for our sailors on leave. They look to these facilities as a sort of SECOND HOME where they can find a good time, good food, and above all, good friends. Free tickets for sporting events, plays, operas, etc., are always available at USO headquarters.

From the viewpoint of the Navy, the USO in Chicago has done an outstanding job. We had a little experience here at Great Lakes not long ago which proves what the Navy really thinks of the USO. The men attached to Ship's Company (of which I am a member) decided that it would be a good idea for Great Lakes to help out in the USO drive. The idea caught on and these fellows donated $1,565.93 out of their own pockets. The whole thing was absolutely voluntarily... nobody put the pressure on anyone else. It was simply the Navy's way of saying "Thanks" to the USO.

Sincerely yours,

ED O'BRIEN

Over Two Million Pounds of Waste Fat From Illinois

Quota for September Is Set by WPB Division; Collections Grow

Chicago, Sept. 4—(AP)—The War Production Board conservation division today announced monthly state quotas for the midwest in the nationwide drive for 500,000,000 pounds of waste fat a year.

State goals included: Illinois 2,670,000 pounds; Indiana, 1,070,000; Iowa, 750,000; Michigan, 1,720,000; Minnesota, 850,000; Wisconsin, 970,000.

Monthly quotas for cities of 100,000 population or more in the midwest included: Gary, Ind., 42,000 pounds; Grand Rapids, Mich., 62,000; Indianapolis, 145,000; Milwaukee, 220,000; Minneapolis, 185,000; Peoria, Ill., 40,000; South Bend, Ind., 38,000.

COLLECTIONS MOUNT
Continuing to increase at a rate of 2,000 pounds a week, collections of waste fats from Illinois kitchens totalled 32,000 pounds in the seventh week of the intensive drive, according to reports today to Robert Ticken and George M. Eisenberg, co-chairmen of the salvage committee, Illinois State Council of Defense.

The totals, from rendering companies, do not include unreported collections by 280 food locker companies who recently began collections of fats brought in by farmers.

Communities participating in the drive represent only about one-eighth of the state's population. In three of the 19 districts into which rendering companies have divided the state to facilitate pick-ups gains of from 25 to 100 per cent were recorded last week.

In Galesburg, Monmouth and Alton last week collections were 2,818 pounds, double those of the previous week; Polo, Lanark, Mt. Carroll, Sterling, Dixon and Harvard increased their contributions from 1,491 pounds to 2,167 pounds, a gain of 33 per cent and a gain of 25 per cent was rung up by Quincy and towns along the Mississippi south of Burlington, Wis.

"Our goal of 50,000 pounds a week is being rapidly approached," Mr. Ticken said. "This will mean that Illinois housewives will supply enough fats every week to produce 5,000 pounds of glycerin and 10,000 pounds of nitro-glycerin, sufficient to blow up half of Japan."

Crew Member Killed in Boiler Explosion

Sandusky, O., Sept. 4—(AP)—One member of the crew of the sand-sucker Kelley Island was scalded to death today in a boiler room explosion.

The victim was Louis Gessner of Sandusky.

Coast guardsmen said he was cleaning out fires when, apparently, a steam line broke. The sand-sucker was off Marblehead in Lake Erie at the time of the explosion. The vessel is operated by the Kelley Island Lime and Transport Co., and carries a crew of about 10.

Futures Markets on Soy Beans and Lard War Victims

Chicago, Sept. 4—(AP)—The once booming soybeans and lard futures markets on Chicago's famous Board of Trade, center of international transactions in these commodities, are casualties of the war.

Trade in both commodities has dropped to a trickle of orders. Lard prices are virtually pegged and their fluctuations are meaningless. Trade in soybeans is held up by uncertainty as to the government program in handling the new crop.

War-time government controls are responsible, market experts said today. These commodities have joined the markets in cocoa, coffee, sugar, rubber, silk, hides, copper, tin, lead and zinc in the war's blackout.

To prevent commodity prices from rising in an inflationary spiral, government ceilings are in effect on lard and soybean oil, most important by-product of the processing of beans.

Prices Out of Line
Since there is no ceiling on hogs, prices of live animals have advanced to a point where they are far out of line compared with the maximum allowable price for lard. This has stopped commercial as well as investment and speculative dealings in lard, with prices holding at or near ceilings of $12.90 per hundredweight compared with an average price of over $14 for hogs.

Lard was one of the first commodities designated for futures trading on the board of trade, which was organized almost a century ago.

The government contemplates a step beyond price control in the soybean trade. Since it has guaranteed producers a price based at around $1.60 on the farm for good grade beans and has established ceilings on the price of oil, processors have complained that they cannot conduct operations normally because the price they would have to pay for beans would not permit sufficient margin in disposal of oil and the vast quantity of soybean meal that would be produced.

A plan whereby the government would subsidize the processing as well as the growing of the nation's record 1942 crop has been proposed.

True Americanism is reflected in today's newspaper carrier boys. Your Telegraph carrier is now entered in a subscription contest and has a chance to see the U. S. Army War Show in Chicago absolutely free. If you know where he can secure another new order, be sure to tell him today—it may help him win.

Free Instruction in Fundamentals of Radio Offered Here

Registration for These Lessons May Be Made at Dixon High

Among the war training courses available in Dixon are two courses in radio fundamentals. The objective of these courses is to provide training for men and women who desire to learn the basic principles of radio theory and practice, and thereby become better qualified for employment in war industries or the radio branch of the military service.

High school graduation or satisfactory completion of two years of high school mathematics and one year of physics or their equivalent are required for admission. Tuition is free.

The course will cover the fundamentals underlying the operation of radio communication systems. Recitations, lectures and laboratory work will be required.

Since modern warfare depends almost entirely for success upon keeping communication lines open, and the maintenance of contact between all units of the force, all tanks, trucks, planes, ships, and other units of the mechanized forces are now equipped with radio transmitters and receivers. This necessitates a tremendous number of trained radio technicians for operation and maintenance.

In Enlisted Reserves
The United States Army Signal Corps desires that as many as possible complete the courses. The War Department has approved a plan whereby qualified men may enlist in the Enlisted Reserve Corps and be permitted to engage in the study of fundamentals of radio; or to complete such studies in accordance with present schedules and while continuing their present daily work.

Under this plan, 1-A draftees, possessing the educational requirements, and passing the physical exams, may enlist in the Enlisted Reserve Corps and not report for active duty until the course is completed.

According to the War Department, "If any 1-A men in radio technician training classes are about to be called by the draft board, it is the consensus that their country will be better served by their enlistment in the Enlisted Reserve Corps."

Reserves now, instead of responding to the draft.

Those desiring to enroll in this or other courses under the war training program may register at the Dixon high school on Sept. 8, 9 and 10, from 7 to 9 p. m. The east door should be used. Further information may be secured from A. H. Ferger, 1004 North Dixon avenue, Dixon or by calling X1141.
